THE SEASON'S SOCIAL FETE—THE JUNIOR PROM

MISS ALICE MILLER AND MR. ROBERT ANDERSON LEAD JUNIOR PROMENADE

Miss Alice Katherine Miller, Sponsor, and Mr. Robert Nelson Anderson, President of the Class, led the JUNIOR Promenade at the "Season's Social Fete"—The JUNIOR Prom—at Rauscher's, February 18. The Promenade was held during the intermission, preceded and followed by dancing.

The big ballroom was decorated with Southern Smilax and draped with university flags and colors. The Class and fraternity boxes were built along the western and southern sides of the hall and presented a blaze of color and careful decoration. Flowers, shields, pennants and pretty girls were prominent in the arrangement of the Greek Letter Boxes.

The patrons and patronesses, who included Senator and Mrs. James Watson, Representative and Mrs. Oscar E. B., and Representative and Mrs. Guy E. Campbell, Representative and Mrs. Cleveland Newton, Colonel and Mrs. F. F. Hutchins, Judge and Mrs. Arthur B. Hayes, Dr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Owens, Dr. Josephine Baird, Mrs. Harry A. Miller, Miss Daisy Watkins and Mr. Elmer Louis Kayser, were introduced by Mr. Donald Bartlett and received by Mr. Anderson of the JUNIOR C. C. Class, assisted by Mrs. Howard L. Hodgkins, Mr. Harry Strang, Mrs. William Cline Borden, Miss Etta Louise Taggart, Miss Catherine Tonge, Mrs. Leroy Ferson and Mr. Harry Wright Newman.

The Committee, to which is due the success of what the Washington Star calls "the most elaborate and brilliant social fete of the university year," were Harry Newman, Chairman; Catherine Tonge, Vice-Chairman; C. M. Godfrey; J. R. Morford, Joseph Lapish; B. C. Harris, C. W. Schoff-stall, Everett Hellmuth, Preston Haynes, Eloise Tibbs, Evelyn Jones, George Sheriff, Phoebe Gates, Mary C. Roberts, Gladys Phoebeus, Clifford Curry, J. C. Fair, Herbert Wilson, D. G. Coleman, Catherine Trotter, Etta L. Taggart, Donald Bartlett, Pearl Crosby, Vivian Wooster, Wm. Bal-lenger, Jno. Watkins, Rosemary Arnold, Bernard Burdick, Martha Waring, Olive Prescott, Ethel Johnson, Katherine Symmonds.

JUNIORS HOLD OPEN HOUSE

Miss Margaret Smith was in charge of the Junior Open House, held in the Chapel of Lisner Hall, on the evening of Thursday, February 20, when about 100 guests enjoyed the dancing, refreshments and clever novelties afforded them.

The Juniors were honored by the presence of Dean and Mrs. Hodgkins, Professor and Mrs. Erwin, Dr. Josephine Baird, and Dr. and Mrs. Borsch. A box was prepared for the patron guests, who offered helpful suggestions and good wishes greatly to the encouragement of the members of the Class.

The Hall was decorated with the University Colors and hung with pennants of the different colleges. A punch bowl was set aside and maintained by the Committee.

One of the interesting events of the evening was the selling of chances on a beautiful poster made by Mr. Carl Peterson for the purpose of advertising the Junior Play. Fifty-seven chances were sold at 10 cents each, and strange to relate, the lucky number was held by Bob Anderson. He was awarded the prize by Mr. Cameron Burton and Mr. Preston Haynes, under whose auspices the game was conducted. The money so realized is to be used to help defray the expense of the Junior Play.

At midnight the novel affair was over, the guests had departed and the janitor begun his work of cleaning up. But the thoughts of the Open House are not forgotten—rather tucked away in the corners of the minds of the Sophomores and Freshmen present. They in time will be Juniors, too, and the remembrance of the hospitality and the successful plans of the Juniors of '21, will serve as an inspiration to the fulfillment of even greater work.

ANDERSON PROVES CAPABLE EXECUTIVE

The origin and success of the plans of the well organized Junior Class of the University is due largely to the capabilities of its executive head, Robert Nelson Anderson.

To Mr. Anderson is due the credit for the introduction of a custom heretofore unknown in the annals of the University.—The Junior Week.

At the time he was elected President, Mr. Anderson bespoke the class aims for a Greater G. W., and explained the opportunities which the class had before it for the fulfillment of its hopes and desires.

These aims are well under way for realization, due to the hearty co-operation and spirit of the class and the able and efficient executive powers displayed by the officers.

Mr. Anderson is a graduate of McKinley Manual Training School of this city, where he was manager of the 1917 Football Team, critic of the Agora Debating Society, Secretary of the "T" Club and President of the General Organization, comprising the entire student body of the school.

Mr. Anderson, an honor graduate, was awarded the scholarship to Harvard University, by the Harvard Club of Washington, but changing his plans, entered Columbian College of the University in the fall of 1917. Directly afterward he was appointed Student Assistant in History to Dr.

JUNIORS TENDER FORMAL RECEPTION TO PRESIDENT AND UNIVERSITY OFFICIALS

The JUNIOR Class of the University tendered a Formal Reception to the President, the University Council, the Board of Trustees, the Deans and members of the Faculty of the University at the Delta Tau Delta House, on the evening of February 20.

IBANEZ ACCEPTS DEGREE

"But of all the undeserved honors which have been bestowed upon me, of all the demonstrations of sympathy, which are the result of the kindness with which the American people receive their foreign guests, none is more worthy of my gratitude than the one received at this very moment when the degree of Doctor of Letters is conferred upon me by a University that bears the name of George Washington, the hero I most admire and the kindest and sublimest spirit that ever drew sword." And Vincente Blasco Ibanez became an honorary alumnus of the University when he accepted the degree of Doctor of Letters at the Midwinter Convocation held in the auditorium of Central High School last Monday afternoon.

This degree of Litt. D. is the second honor so conferred upon the author who is a republican by inclination and choice, has refused all marks of distinction from monarchies and, heretofore, has accepted only the membership tendered him in the Legion of Honor of France.

It was "in recognition of your talents—your service—of your natural gifts and your attainments" that the Faculty and Board of Trustees voted unanimously to confer the degree upon Senor Ibanez.

Senor Ibanez, contrary to the ordinary customs, addressed the Convocation on the "Best Novel in the World—Don Quixote." He argued that the novel was the final literary genius of a people—that first appeared the lyric poem—then the epic poetry—the drama—and, finally, the novel—the "synthesis and perfect product" of all of these.

Don Quixote, he said was in a class by itself; that it had lived and would continue to live throughout the ages.

The guests of the evening were received by a committee of the Class, headed by Robert N. Anderson of the Columbian College Class, Harry L. Strang of the Junior Engineering Class and Miss Etta Taggart of the Junior Law Class.

The Fraternity House was splendidly decorated for the occasion and the members of the Class acted as the host and hostesses for the reception. Music was furnished by an orchestra, hidden behind large palms, lending an air of charm to the affair.

The Class was honored by the presence of Dean Howard Hodgkins, Dean and Miss Henning and Dean and Mrs. Ferson, together with about seventy other guests.

The reception was over at 11 o'clock, but when the news of the postponement of the Junior Play, scheduled for the following night, was made known it was decided to turn the reception into a farewell dance. The orchestra was so instructed and the occasion was changed from a formal reception to the Jazziest of Jazz dances.

A few of the Juniors present were Miss Catherine Tonge, Miss Gladys Phoebeus, Miss Margaret Smith, Miss Phoebe Gates, Miss Kathryn Symmonds, Miss Helen Hosford, Miss Rosemary Arnold, Mr. Donald Bartlett, Mr. Joseph Lapish and Mr. Bernard Burdick.

"Don Quixote," he asserted, "has been until now the first among novels and centuries will roll by before it will drop to second place."

The spirit which fills Don Quixote has moved to the United States and has showed itself in the attitude of the United States in the recent war, according to Dr. Ibanez's reasoning. "You did all this generously and gratuitously. The noble hero imag-

DEBATES IN HOT ARGUMENT

Six debaters, two of whom were of the so-called "gentler" sex (we say "so-called" because the unrelenting shafts of logic, facts and ratiocination which they hurled at their respective opponents would dispel immediately any thoughts of "gentleness" as applicable to them in debate) argued the resolution that "Injunctions used by the Government against labor unions are undesirable" to an enthusiastic audience of about eighty.

These weekly meetings of the Columbian Debating Society are becoming more popular each Friday night, and it may necessitate asking the University to allow the use of a larger hall in order to more conveniently sit the members and their friends who nearly always appear en masse to listen to the delightful, interesting and instructive debates.

It is particularly called to the attention of the George Washington University students that this Columbian Debating Society is a distinct part and element of the University's activities. It is part of the curriculum. It is optional with the student so far as his technical college credits go, whether he attend or not, but it is surely IMPERATIVE that he learn to debate if he is to consider that his college education has given him the full training and knowledge necessary in life. No matter if one have enough degrees that the initials thereof will bridge a sheet of foolscap lengthwise, if he cannot intelligently address an audience extemporaneously, he cannot be considered in a full measure an educated man.

The Columbian Debating Society offers the opportunity to acquire a facility in extempore public speaking. It is well to consider that professional instructors in public speaking, who charge you for their service, do no more than what is done at the Society's meetings each Friday. The professional instructor gets you to speak on a given proposition, and when you have completed your dissertation he tells you in a smooth way what your good qualities are and how to develop them to the greatest degree of proficiency and also what your defects in public speaking are and how to remedy them.

This is all done at the Columbian Debating Society where a competent and experienced critic attends each meeting and who, after all the speeches are given, points out the virtues and weaknesses of each indi-

OWENS RESIGNS AS BUSINESS MANAGER

Owing to an extra amount of scholastic work, caused by an enforced absence during the Christmas Holidays, John A. Owens last week tendered his resignation to the University Student Council, as Business Manager of the Hatchet.

John G. Ladd has been appointed as Business Manager in Mr. Owens' place until the Council may have time to ratify his appointment or to nominate another in his place.

Mr. Owens' work has been one of the factors in the present success of the Hatchet and it was with the deepest regret that he decided to vacate the office, inasmuch as he had several plans which he desired to fulfill.

Mr. Ladd is a Letter Man in Basketball and Captain of the last year's Baseball Team from the Engineering College. He has taken an active part in Men's Tennis and is the Manager of the team this year.

vidual speaker. In this way the most timid and tongue-tied amateur in time develops into a finished speaker.

It is well to consider also that those who attend the weekly meetings of the Society acquire a knowledge of modern affairs (political, financial, commercial) which cannot be gotten otherwise, except through much research and study. Here the prepared speakers give a thorough account of the proposition under discussion and these discussions run the entire gamut of human and political possibilities and actualities.

The two young exponents of chivalry are none other than Gene Cox and our fair friend, Arthur Gronna, he of the "tow head" and chummy Marmon.

SENIOR CLASS

PLANS DANCE

At meetings of the Senior Classes from all departments held February 24 and 27 it was decided to hold an all-Senior mixer or informal dance at 2400 16th Street on the evening of March 16.

Miss Elizabeth Humphreys of Teachers College and Mr. Frederic V. Wetherill of the College of Engineering presided jointly at the meetings. Committees were appointed to attend to matters incidental to an affair of this character.

Great enthusiasm prevailed at the meetings, especially among the members of the fair sex, who were out en masse, determined to see that the Class of 1920 is placed upon the map. Tickets will be $2 per couple and may be purchased from class officers or members of the committee which has the affair in hand. The members of this committee are the Misses Humphreys, Barbour, Cummings, Nelson, McGrew and Einstein and Messrs. Wetherill, Weinstein, Cottrell, Olinger and Harding.

The Chi Deuteron Charge of Theta Delta Chi is deeply touched by the loss of Emory M. Wilson, for eighteen years principal of The Central High School. "Ep" Wilson was one of the Theta Delt's most active in the installation of the local Charge in 1896. The community-wide sorrow and sympathy is shared by Washington Theta Delt's.

Orders for the pictures of the Junior Prom will be taken in the University Hatchet Office, upon payment of one dollar, the available supply is limited.

All those who have proofs of pictures taken for the Cherry Tree are urged to return same at once to Bachrach, Studio.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '21.

The class of '21 since its entrance as Freshman into G. W. U. has been one of which anyone may be proud to boast of. In the Freshman year the following officers very ably set the class on the road toward success: Charles M. Boteler, President; Lella Warren, Vice-President; Margaret Moran, Secretary, and George W. English, Treasurer.

Charles Boteler is now in the Law School. Lella Warren is still with us in Columbian College. Peggy Moran comes back and visits us occasionally, but her chief pastime now is as one of Uncle Sam's force in the Treasury Department. George English is now making a name for himself at the University of Illinois.

The class did many things that year to make all upper classmen sit up and take notice, the chief of which was the Freshman Prom of 1918, which was the greatest social event G. W. U. had held in years up to that time.

The Sophomore year, as with all other classes, was not a very successful one on account of the war, which took so many of the main supports of the class away in the service.

However, the present year makes up for what the last year lacked, and then leaves a good margin. On October 16, 1919, the Student Council called for an organization of the Junior Columbian College Class, at this meeting the following officers were elected: Robert N. Anderson, President; Harry W. Newman, Vice-President; George R. Sheriff, Secretary; William Ballenger, Treasurer; Martha Waring, Sergeant-at-Arms.

At this first meeting the class decided to show the school that it was the peppiest that ever entered G. W. U., and definitely decided to start on plans for not only a Junior Prom, but a whole Junior week.

Definite weekly meetings of the executive committee were set and monthly meetings of the whole class as well. At the next meeting it was decided to give regular class socials on the second Wednesday of each month.

The first of these socials was held on November 12, 1919, at Lisner Hall. It was preceded by a regular meeting of the class. At this meeting the matter of the class poem was taken up, and every active member of the class is now a competitor for the honor as class poet. Some time during the spring we are all to present samples of our own talents along these lines, and judges are to decide who the most talented is.

The President, Bob Anderson, after the poet matter was settled, gave an interesting address to the class on its opportunities, as it graduates in the year of the hundredth anniversary of the founding of old Columbian College.

When the meeting adjourned it was followed by a very successful social, with dancing and thanks to Martha Waring and the rest of her committee for the delightful refreshments.

This party all finished, we immediately got to work on the next one which was held at the Sigma Nu House on December 19. This was a Christmas party and the feature of the evening was a large, handsomely decorated Xmas tree. Every member of the class, as well as the officers of the other classes, was presented with an appropriate present—such as a rattle for the Freshman President, etc. Dancing and eats featured at this party as well.

The class colors have been decided upon as crimson, gold and white, the crimson and gold represents the sunset, and the white represents the dawn of a new century in the history of G. W. U.

The Junior class credits itself with starting a custom at G. W. U. that will continue, as it does in other universities, and that is Junior week, one of the events of which will be the Junior Prom. Junior week was held with the following events:

Prom—February 18.

Reception to University—February 19.

Reception to Faculty—February 20. The Junior play which was scheduled for February 21 has necessarily been postponed until later.

Junior week it is hoped is now an established custom at G. W. U., and the Juniors appeal to the coming classes when they become Juniors to see that the custom is lived up to.

Junior week over, the class is starting a drive for a greater G. W. U., and plans are being formulated to create a building fund. G. W. U. has outgrown its present location, and we must have buildings and a campus, and every class, student and organization is asked to lend its hearty cooperation to the Class of '21 to make

OLIVE PRESCOTT ARTISTE EXTRAORDINAIRE

CONTEST FOR TREE SUBSCRIPTIONS

A subscription contest is to be inaugurated this year to obtain subscriptions for the Cherry Tree, the University Year Book. The Business Manager, Thomas E. Lodge, Law '21, has offered a cash prize of $25 for the highest number of subscriptions over twenty-five turned in by a student. Furthermore, any student organization having the highest number of subscriptions over twenty-five shall receive their space in the Cherry Tree without charge.

The contest is open to all members of the University and to all groups of students who desire to pool their subscriptions in the attempt to win the prize. The offer made to the organizations includes such student activities as the George Washington University Players, the Art Club, the Chemical Society, the Engineering Society, the different Law Clubs, etc., and also the different fraternities and sororities.

There is but one prize offered—either $25 to the student or the printing of the activities of an organization in the year book without charge. In other words, should the student obtain a greater number of subscriptions over twenty-five than an organization, the student shall receive the $25; and conversely, should the organization have more subscriptions over twenty-five than a student, the organization will be given its space, but in no event will receive the $25.

Membership in any of the above mentioned organizations will not militate against the person having the highest number of subscriptions receiving the prize, but the subscriptions which the student, belonging to any of the organizations, shall turn in individually in the endeavor to win the $25 will not be credited to his organization. No subscription blanks filled in by students who have signed the Voluntary Student Activities Tax will be accepted. All those students who have signed the tax are entitled to a copy of the Cherry Tree on the presentation of their tax stub without further payment.

The contest begins with this issue of THE HATCHER and will continue for one month. At the end of this time all subscriptions must be in. There will be positively no subscriptions accepted or solicited at the close of this period. This restriction is made necessary because of the contract with the printing company handling the work for the Cherry Tree. THE HATCHER will each week print the names and the standing of the contestants.

Subscription blanks may be obtained from J. Foster Hagan at the office of the University HATCHER, from Thomas E. Lodge at the Law School, and from J. P. Earnest, Jr., at the Medical Building. Each blank has three spaces for the name and address of the subscriber, and for the name of the student or organization for which the subscription is solicited. No money is to be paid any solicitor. All payments should be made directly to one of the men named above.

Each contestant should hand in his filled blanks to the man from whom he received them no later than Saturday so that a full and accurate list of the contestants and their standing may be prepared for the issue of THE HATCHER which will appear the following week.

A copy of the Cherry Tree will cost $4 and promises to be the best ever published. William M. Ballinger, the Editor-in-Chief, is hard at work with his assistants preparing the material to go to press March 15. On his staff are the following: Associate Editors, Harry Newman, J. Foster Hagan and Elizabeth Earnest. John G. Ladd will write the athletic news. The school reporters are Beatrice Tait for Columbian College, Leslie Adams for the Law School, Jack B. Zerbe for the Medical School, Alma Barker for Teachers College. Reporters for the Dental School, the School of Pharmacy and for the Nurses College have not been named. "Cherries" will be edited by Ralph S. Nagle and Russell I. Whyte, the originators of "Stupid Stephen". Alvin Birch will report for the fraternities and Katharine Wilfley will serve in the same capacity for the sororities. Preston Haynes is the special writer on the staff.

The business staff consists of Thomas E. Lodge, Business Manager; Frank Hagaman, Assistant Business Manager; Philbrick McCoy, Advertising Manager, and J. P. Earnest, Jr., Circulation Manager. Mr. Lodge has secured the services of Horn-Shafer Printers and Publishers of Baltimore. This company makes a specialty of publishing college and university annuals. The Lanman Engraving Company in the Post Building will do the engraving and the photographs will be made by Bachrach Studio.

THE JUNIORS SUCCEED

Junior Week closed last Friday night in a blaze of triumphant glory—a suitable ending to semester of hard work and earnest co-operation. The Juniors have very nearly accomplished what they set out to do—to help upbuild the University. They have accomplished this by setting an example of school and class loyalty for the Undergraduates and by hearty co-operative work among themselves. The "Mixers," the Xmas Party, the Reception, Open House, and Prom, reflect their spirit and the means they used to materialize their ideals. The increasing interest of the school in the class is shown by the attendance at the Open House and the Prom—when all the University, from the Deans to the greenest Freshman—were present, and whose presence indicated, not a class affair but one of all the school.

THE HATCHET, in an Editorial last Fall, prophesied "signal success" for the class, since it was a "capable organization with a definite aim in view". This prediction has been far exceeded by the Juniors, who have attained even greater than "signal success".

The School—the Faculty—the Student Body—owes a debt of gratitude to the best organized—the most capable—and by far the most spirited, class it has ever had.

And the Juniors, and the memory of their successful innovations, and their hard work and intense loyalty, will be remembered long after the class itself has left the school, and will serve as an inspiration to those younger students, who, in the future, must enter and "Carry On" for the honor of the U!!!

In the old days the Juniors used to go to the Freshman Prom. In these days the Freshmen go to the Junior Prom.

Have you noticed that many of our former sea-dogs have become tea-hounds?

Do they call it Junior Week because of the after effects? (This may be weakly expressed.)

Getting through an examination without observing the Honor System is like the "No Smoking" sign in a "beanery"—it doesn't mean anything to you.

We wonder if the new street car tickets can be used for soda checks. CHECK.

BOOSTERS CLUB FORMED

A new organization has arisen amid the hurry of our strenuous life in the University. "A Boosters' Club" has been formed on a happy inspiration of one of the hard workers who is tired of the ceaseless knocking by the large percentage of "Do-nothings" who are always willing to show the way by advice and not by example.

It is strange to relate that the Club was not founded in the hope to break down the invincible power of that mystic "Tri Sig" we heard so much about last year.

The Boosters' Club has adopted the following jingle as a motto, and promises to work ruin with those who so unendingly complain.

If you want to go to the kind of a school,

Like the kind of a school you like,
You needn't pack your books in a strap

And start on a long, long hike.

For you'll only find what you left behind

For there's nothing that's really new.
Its a knock at yourself when you knock your school,
Its not the school—its YOU!

The worth while schools are never made,

By persons afraid, lest some one else gets ahead,

If everyone works and no one shirks,
You can raise a school from the dead,
And when you make your personal stake,

Your neighbor will make one, too,
And your school will be what you want to see,

Its not the school—its YOU!
(It would seem as though the Juniors had adopted this as their motto!—Editor.)

Dr. J. Wesley Bovee and Dr. W. D. Tewksbury read two very interesting papers before the regular monthly smoker of the Phi Chapter of Phi Chi Medical Fraternity held at Cushman's Clubrooms on Saturday night, February 14.

The subjects brought up by those two papers were discussed by the fifty men, comprising the active chapter, alumni and their guests, who attended the smoker. The Fraternity points with pride to the fact that it was Dr. Tewksbury who first discovered the use of Artificial Pneumothorax in the treatment of Acute Lung Abscess, and who has had marked success with the treatment.

At the next smoker, which will be held on Saturday night, March 13, at Cushman's (607 Fourteenth Street) at 8:30 P. M., Dr. J. D. Stout will speak on "Military Neuropsychoses" and Dr. Shepherd I. Franz on the "Re-education of Soldiers".

In addition, Dr. French, winner of a high French War Medal, will give a summary of his work in the army.

Stupid Stephen Says

"How can you tell the Juniors?"

They should have called the Junior Prom the Junior "Hike," for at intermission they walked us 4 miles around the hall.

T. Hound was injured in a "tea fight" last Sunday when the tea spoon in his tea cup got caught between his eyes.

Answers to Correspondents

Dear Stupe:

What is a JUNIOR?

Answer: When there are two in a family with the same name, the other one is a JUNIOR.

Hi Stupe:

How do you pronounce CIHTLD?

Answer: It is pronounced cihtld

Dear Steve:

What is a chaperone?

Answer: A chaperone is an affliction that is most evident among the young people. It is very hard to get rid of, and often returns after a week's absence. Its origin has been traced to seminaries and other places of similar type that are inhabited by the female of the species.

Dear Stupe:

Did you ever hear the story of the peacock?

Answer: Yes; its a wonderful tale isn't it?

Dear Mr. Stephen:

Is it all right for me to take a young lady to the Junior play in a business suit?

Answer: Take her in taxi.

She sits below you,

You're standing there

You look again,
She has red hair.

A likely looking dame, you think.

And pretty soon you brave a wink,

She favors you with a smile,

You'll know her well in a short while,

This all takes place in a crowded car,

And then—Yee Gods! a sudden jar,

You quickly grab for a strap,

Missed—and then you're in her lap.

A question: Has it ever happened to you?
